

Rental Information for the PRESENTAvote System

Introduction

How do you know if you've got everybody's attention?

Usually you don't, but by giving everyone in the room their own voting handset and asking them to press a button to answer a question, you're guaranteed 100% involvement.

PRESENTAvote is Promethean's integrated personal response system that is designed to encourage whole group participation. A simple Microsoft PowerPoint plug-in enables everyone in the room to "have a voice". The opinions of the whole group can be instantly shared and addressed.

Which means PRESENTAvote can be used in a number of ways. At the start of a session to break the ice or find out more about what people already know.

Later on use it to build rapport, facilitate discussion or assess understanding. Maybe even to obtain feedback and evaluation on a session - or simply to add fun to the driest of subjects.
